

Undergraduate Degree Completion Program (UDCP)

Bachelor of Liberal Studies in INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Boston University's online Undergraduate Degree Completion Program (UDCP) is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to earn a bachelor's that will enrich your personal experience and add breadth to your professional endeavors.

Designed with inquisitive working adults in mind, the UDCP offers a highly structured, interdisciplinary curriculum. Each innovative, specialized course is developed and taught by a BU faculty member with unique expertise in, and passion for, the particular subject. As part of a supportive, interactive virtual community, you'll engage in individual and collaborative work throughout the program. On the way to earning a highly respected degree from Boston University, you'll gain an in-depth understanding of the humanities, the social sciences, and the fundamentals of natural science, along with well-honed analytical skills and crucial abilities in writing and critical thinking.

To be eligible, you must have previously earned 52-64 transferable academic credits.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Designed for mature and motivated adult learners who have completed approximately half of their undergraduate work.
- Can be completed in as few as 30 months, with two seven-week courses offered sequentially, by semester.
- Interactive online format includes lectures and debates, videos, interactive animations, discussion boards, and more, providing a forum for engaged learning within a structured and participatory environment.
- Courses begin six times each year; applications are accepted on a rolling admissions basis.

LEARN FROM THE BEST
